Thinking Out Loud

By H. M. L.

The Fourth of July, birthday of Independence for the United States is tomorrow. It is perhaps as good a time as any to review and, in so far one may, instructed by the past, to peer into the future. Two things, if one cared to boil down a mass of historical data to find essentials, made the United States great. First was resourceful men and women, free and unafraid. Second were natural resources unmatched anywhere in the world. Greatnes grew from the reaction of resourceful, free men working upon vast natural resources. converting them, under conditions of free enterprise into riches, individual and national.

In times of stress, probably most of us, including those who do a large share of the nation"s thinking, take the short rather than the long view. For instance, we have worried much about the fate of the four hundred million Chinese at the hands of the eighty million Japanese. It would be well, perhaps, to recall that only a few centuries ago the Manchus, fierce northern barbarians, overwhelmed the Chinese and ruled them for a long period. But the Chinese won in the end. The Manchus were absorbed as a bucket of water absorbs a spoonful of salt. In time, whether or not the Japanese are victorious, they will disappear in the Chinese mass. There may be enough of them however, to leaven the Chinese loaf.

We may wring our hands at the bargarities and cruelties that the Japanese have practiced, at the wanton sacrifice of innocent human lives, at the destruction of human institutions built for a better civilization, but the fact remains that this is the historic penalty paid from time immemorial for change in the conditions under which men live. The same reasoning may be applied to the German invasion of Russia, and too, assuming that Russia sooner or later is defeated, there will be a leaven. The Germans if left to their own devices would undoubtedly have a profound effect upon the lethargy and primitive simplicity of the Russians.

Let us face the fact that if we succeed in helping Britain to defeat Germanl, and to restore to Russia all that is now, or that may be lost, we will have restored also that primitive and barbaric system of government and society, known as communism. For after all, communism is the most primitive of all social organization. The Indian tribes of the New World practiced it, and African tribes of black men still practice communism. The world only began to emerge from the welter of ignorance, poverty and confusion with the rise of individual liberty and free enterprise.

At long last, the question which we have resolved to answer in favor of the Russians, is that of human right as against human progress achieved by violence. If the Russians are content with their way of life, and if it does, as many contend, represent distinct advance over the days of serfdom, then according to our fundamental credo, it is their right to live their lives as they will without German overlordship to hasten their progress toward higher planes of civilization. It would be much easier to see this, were Americans not so resentful of the proselyting the Russian communists have done in our own country, in an attempt to restore the sharing of, or equality of wealth which characterized the American Indian.

The system of individual liberty, of free enterprise does place a high premium upon brains The organizer, the engineer, the great artist, and the scientist, given room and time to exercise their talents, bring immeasurable wealth to their fellow men, and often amass fortunes themselves.

The supervisors were expected to conclude their regular monthly business today and adjourn until Monday, when they will meet as a board of equalization to hear protests against property assessments.

During the past three days the supervisors occomplished the following:

Appropriated $500 in the 1941-42 budget to the Nevada County Health Clinic.

Granted the Veterans of Foreign Wars $360 in the 1941-42 budget for rent for a meeting place.

Suspended the school districts of Cherokee and Spenceville after Superintendent of Schools Walter Carlson informed them the attendance had fallen below the minimum requirement.

The recreational project in Grass Valley and the one contemlated for Nevada City were abandoned upon the discontinuance of the WPA.

All members of the board were in attendance at the sessions. Chairman Cary Arbogast presided.

NEVADA CITY WILL TANGLE WITH ROCKLIN

Since its 14 to 6 trouncing of Georgetown last Sunday to open the last half of the Foothill League, the Nevada City baseball team is determined to capture this part of the split season.

In addition to a completely revised infield, Manager Richard Biggs boasts of one of the most powerful batting lineups in the league.

The locals expect to sign a new secondbaseman before travelling to Rocklin next Sunday for what is expected to be the hardest fought game of the season.

Bill Livesay, who pitched four hit ball against Georgetown will start on the mound with the heavy hitting Ainsley Fouyer behind the plate.

James Shirley, who played heads up baseball last Sunday and blasted out three hits, will again take over first base with "Babe" Childers, one of the fanciest ball handlers of the loop, moving to either shortstop or thirdbase.

Registration In County R-Day Is 109

Nevada County's registration of young men who reached the age of 21 from last October 16th to July 1 totaled 109, which was between 50 and 75 below expectations.

It has been reported the entire state's new Selective Service registration fell below the expectations of the Selective Service officials.

In Nevada City 29 registered with Clerk Merle Morrison at the courthouse. The registration in Grass Valley was 52, Truckee 23, Soda Springs 3, Rough and Ready 2. None registered at North San Juan, Graniteville or North Bloomfield.

The Nevada County Selective Service Board will meet this afternoon to prepare a report to the state headquarters in the local registration.

The local board has been notified that all men over 28 years of age have been deferred from military training until action is taken by Congress on a bill to limit the selective service training age to 28 years.

Sheriff Tobiassen And Vernon Stoll Attend Defense Council Meeting

An organization meeting for Nevada, Lassen, Placer and Sacramento Counties under the civil protection phase of the state defense council was held in Sacramento with Deputy Attorney General Warren Olney of San Francisco presiding.

One purpose of the meeting, Olney said, was to acquaint local enforcement officials with state and federal officials with whom they would be working in case of an emergency.

Former Lava Cap Employee Killed In Automobile Accident

The body of Travis Clayton, 26, former Lava Cap Mine employee, who was killed early Tuesday when the automobile he was driving struck the abutment of the culvert on the Auburn Highway below Grass Valley, was sent yesterday to Palestine, Texas, for funeral services and burial. Local arrangements were handled by the Holmes Funeral Hohe.

Robert Shores of Duncan, Ariz., who was a passenger in the Hardy automobile, is confined to the Jones Hospital in Grass Valley with injuries.

Coroner A. M. Holmes, who investigated the accident, said it was one of the worst wrecks he had ever seen. He said the car apparently skidded on its side for 160 feet after it hit the abutment. The car then righted itself and was at right angles to the highway when it came to a halt.

The death of Hardy was due to shock caused by a number of injuries, which included a broken neck, two broken collar bones, crushed chest, pierced lung, compound fracture of the left leg, broken right hip, broken upper and lower jaws and face lacerations.

Prior to their departure from Grass Valley the driver of the car was cited for speeding by the Grass Valley police.

Hardy was enroute to Texas to join his wife and child.

ROTARY CLUB TO WAIT A YEAR FOR CONVENTION

The Nevada City Rotary Club's chances to entertain District 105, Rotary International at the District Presidents' and Secretaries' Assembly in August were shattered yesterday morning when District Governor Paul C. Claiborne of Auburn informed Secretary Fred C. Garrison that the assembly would be held in Alameda instead of Nevada City.

The Alameda club claimed they had not entertained the district lately and felt they were entitled to it. District Governor Claiborn however stated he woud do all in his power to bring the 1942 assembly here. He stated that all of the clubs in the district were anxious to come to Nevada City.

Nevada City invited the club to this community this August at the May District Conference in Sacramento. At the same time Alameda extended an invitation. One of the reasons the assembly will be held in the bay region is probably out of respect for retiring District Governor Walter Helms.

SAYS NEVADA CITY BENEVOLENT SOCIETY STILL IN EXISTENCE

Mrs. Belle Douglass called The Nugget's attention to an error in a recent news story carried by this paper to the effect the Nevada City Benevolent Society is no longer in existence.

Mrs. Douglass says the society is still in existence but not active. She stated existing relief agencies have taken over the task of caring for the needy but occasionally the society aids someone in distress.

FOURTH OF JULY—1941

We celebrate our Independence Day, technically at peace, in a world aflame. But we have never deluded ourselves—and we must not now. Actually, we are at war!

We are at war, not just because we are shipping munitions to Britain but because our way of life—our Democracy—has been challenged; because there are abroad in the world powerful forces which are determined that men shall be returned to serfdom; because the dignity of man has been assailed by power-crazed sovereigns of state.

We have not yet been called upon to man machine guns; we have not yet been forced to run for shelter as bombers roar overhead. And we hope and pray that that day shall not come. But we are still at war, for in this era, as in every era that has gone before, eternal vigilance is still the price of liberty. There is no permanency guaranteed for any institution—even for liberty—except that which we guarantee, as co-signers and co-defenders of our Declaration of Independence. That document isn't something which was signed, sealed and delivered back in 1776; that document is ours to enjoy, only if we safeguard it; only if we are willing to live and die for it.

Let's remember that, this Independence Day. — Contributed.

VACATIONS MEAN MORE NOW

Americans take vacation time seriously. We work hard and play hard in this country. The English humorous magazine Punch, paying too much attention to the latter habit, once declared that America isn't a country—it's a picnic.

Vacations mean a lot to us because they are a part of the whole pattern of freedom under which we live. No state-arranged "workers' tours" and "labor battalion holidays" for us! The people of the United States pay their ten billion dollars annually for amusement and recreation in their own liberty-loving way!

Well, summer is here again, and this is not quite like other years. A huge national defense program is under way, calling for the best that is in every one of us. And it is already apparent that for some Americans, there will be less time for relaxation this year than heretofore.

Skilled management will be in great demand at this critical time in the defense program. The busy employer, whose symbol at present is the sandwich and cup of coffee for a lunch at his desk, will often be forced to forego a vacation this year.

Skilled workers will be in great demand too. Already the employees of some companies working on defense have voted to take their vacation pay as a bonus and go right on working to make sure that their country will be armed in time.

But if the management and workmen in our industries, and all those who have a stake in building this nation's defenses, can give less thought to the pleasures of a summer in the mountains, or on the beach, there is at least one point they will not forget. It is priviliges like these that they are working harder now in order to render secure. And any liberty is only a thing of worth and dignity if those who enjoy it are willing to make sacrifices to insure against its being taken away.

That is the vacation spirit of Americans in the difficult times.—Contributed.

GREAT AMERICAN BROADCAST TO OPEN HERE SUN.

That thrill you got the first time you heard a melody come out of the earphones of your crystal set twenty years ago will be amplified a dozen times by the thrill you'll get reliving that experience with Alice Faye, John Payne, Jack Oakie, and Cesar Romero in their 20th Century Fox film. "The Great American Broadcast." coming Sunday and Monday to the Nevada Theatre.

It's an intensely moving story that's told—the tale of the enterprising foursome unfolded to the accompaniment of songs, laughter, and specialty numbers which combine to make "The Great American Broadcast" an outstanding musical film.

With Alice singing Mack Gordon's and Hary Warren's hit tunes, "Long Ago Last Night," "I Take To Yop," "Run Little Raindrop, Run," "I've Got a Bone to Pick With You," "The Great American Broadcast," "Where You Are" and "It's All in a Lifetime;" with the sensational dance routines of the famed Nicholas Brothers; the inimitable comedy turns of The Wiere Brothers; and the unforgettable renditions of radio's own The Four Inkspots," "The Great American Broadcast" hits new entertainment heights.

But communistic and fascist countries, believing only in force, eliminate intellectual life except as it pertains to the exercise of force. If Russia is defeated, it will in part be due to the recent wholesale slaughter of its military leaders.

In peace times the American people have only grudgingly supported their military establishments. The repugnance of the people to use of armed force in settling disputes is there reflected. Soldiers in the uniforms of privates were barred from the hotels and restaurants of the snobocracy The wordaday American had an antipathy to maintaining armed forces in long time idleness for short time service. The word commonly used for loafing was "soldiering." Kipling said it all in his poems on Tommy Aakins. Democracies are geared for peace, not war. When they enter war they suspend democratic functions.

Both England and the United States have stressed in long periods of peace the achievements of peace and have given homage to the men who brought the nation great gifts in the realms of science, industry or agriculture. Military leaders (we speak of the army), they suffered an eclipse, from which they emerge only in times of national peril. We did not so much distrust them, as the Russians did, but rather in building our nation, we overlooked them.

That we shall about face in this attitude, if not already done, goes without saying. For after all what avails all our achievements of the past, if China regenerated by the busy Japanese, and the great mass of Russia, galvanized by German engineers and scientists, should in the course of ten or twenty years look upon us, and our country, the wealthiest nation on the planet, as booty to be had for the taking.

Miss Mary O'Neill Weds George F. Taylor

The wedding of Miss Mary O'Neill and George J. Taylor took place at St. Clement's Church in Berkeley on Saturday afternoon, June 28th.

The bride's gown was of white chiffon and lace. She wore a short lace veil and carried white orchids and bouvardia. Miss Jane O'Neill, sister of the bride, was maid of honor. Her frock was of peach shadow lace and a small matching hat with net streamers. She carried peach gladiola. The bidesmaids, Miss Marjorie Taylor, sister of the groom, and Miss Dorothy Gaston, were dressed alike in bouffant frocks of blue organdy with tiny blue hats with blue net streamers. They also carried bouquets of peach gladiola.

The bride's mother was dressed in navy blue lace, with a corsage of rose begonias, and the groom's mother wore a pink chiffon gown and corsage of rose begonias.

Before the ceremony Dennis Patterson sang "Oh Perfect Love."

The bride was given in marriage by her brother William O'Neill. In the best man's place was Dixon Conrad, a fraternity brother of Mr. Taylor. John Russell and Edward Delaney acted as ushers.

After the ceremony a reception was held at the home of the Misses Jeanne and Wade O'Neill, aunts of the bride.

Mrs. Taylor is the daughter of Mrs. William Wade O'Neill of Chickasha, Okla. She is a graduate of Oklahoma Women's College.

Mr. Taylor is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross F. Taylor of Downieville and a nephew of Dr. Robert Gordon Sproul. He was graduated from the University of California, and is a member of the Abracadabra fraternity. He is employed by the Pacific Gas and Electric Company in San Francisco.

After a honeymoon in Del Monte, Mr. and Mrs. Taylor will be at home in Berkeley.

COMMONWEALTH CLUB MEDALS GO TO AUTHORS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 3.—With Stewart Edward White and Carl Thurston as the gold medal winner authors for 1940, the Commonwealth Club of California will mark the tenth year of its California Literature Medal Awards Wednesday evening by presenting a total of two gold and five silver medals to seven California authors. Presentations will be made by Paul C. Edwards, president of the club. Selections were made by the club's Literature Jury.

To Stewart Edward White of Burlingame, author of "Wild Geese Calling" (Doubleday, Doran) will go the gold medal for the best book of "general literature" by a California resident published in 1940.

The gold medal for literature of "scholarship and research" will be awarded to Carl Thurston of Pasadena, author of "The Structure of Art" (Univ. of Chicago Press.)

A special silver medal for poetry will be presented to Kenneth Rexroth of San Francisco, author of "In What Hour" (Macmillan), which the club's jury of award judged the best book of poetry by a California resident published in 1940.

The other special silver medal, for the best juvenile book, will go to Doris Gates of San Jose, author of "Blue Willow" (Viking).

Unclassified silver medals will be awarded to Harold Lamb of Hollywood, author of "The March of the Barbarians" (Doubleday, Doran), William Saroyan of San Francisco, author of "My Name Is Aram" (Harcourt Brace), and Thomas A. Bailey of Stanford University, author of "A Diplomatic History of the American People" (F. S. Crofts).

Members of the jury which judged the books included Dr. Hardin Craig, Stanford University; Joseph Henry Jackson, literary editor, San Francisco Chronicle; Prof. Leon J. Richardson, University of California; Dr. Alexander C. Roberts, president San Francisco State College; Prof. Edgar E. Robinson, Stanford University; Dr. Russell M. Story, president Claremont College; C. C. Young, past president of the Commonwealth Club of California, chairman. Stuart R. Ward is secretary of the Literature Award Jury.

In the decade since the Commonwealth Club's literature awards were inaugurated, several California authors recognized by club medals have been accorded national attention. Gold medal winners have included John Steinbeck, who first received the gold award in 193, for "Tortilla Flat," Hans Otto Storm, Dr. E. T. Bell, Sara Bard Field, George B. Stewart, Dr. Herbert Eugene Bolton, Prof. Franklin Walker, Ruth Eleanor McKee, B. P. Kurtz, Albert Leon Guerard, Dr. George D. Lyman, and Dr. Herbert Ingram Priestley.

Under present rules, no author is eligible for more than one award in the same classification.

BIG TAX YIELD SLASHES STATE DEFICIT AGAIN

By T. M. BRIGHT
United Press Staff Correspondent

SACRAMENTO, July 3.—(UP)—The close of the fiscal year focused attention on the state's financial condition after 12 months in which the national defense boom sent revenues skyrocketing.

Preliminary figures released by the state controller's office indicated that when the state's books are closed for the year the deficit will have been slashed between $43,000,000 and $45,000,000. This figure will be considerably less than the $47,000,000 anticipated by Governor Culbert Olson in his report to the legislature last January.

State accountants explained revenues had been greater than anticipated and unemployment relief appropriation less. Even greater state savings are anticipated during the next fiscal period as a result of liquidation of the state relief administration. Olson is being urged to call a special session of the legislature to provide relief funds but has given no indication he intends to do so.

Reports were current in the capitol that the administration may give serious consideration to a special call later in the year if it becomes evident enough voters are available to establish a works program for the unemployed, one of the governor's pet schemes.

Meanwhile, the state board of social welfare was prepared to take over some of the functions of the SRA, notably the food stamp and surplus commodities programs, WPA and CCC certifications and sponsorship of WPA projects. Legislation accomplishing these transfers is before the governor.

Olson's bill signing period will end at midnight, July 19, and many measures including some 8,000,000 in special appropriation bills remain unapproved. Among scores of measures signed during the week were those giving members of the state personnel board annual salaries of $3600 instead of per diem fees and permitting counties to contract with the state relief administration to care for indigents in SRA single men's camps already established. The counties would pay the actual cost of maintenance.

GEMS OF THOUGHT

He sent his word, and healed them, and delivered them from their destructions. —Psalms 107:20.

Among the sources of those innumerable calamities which from age to age have overwhelmed mankind, may be reckoned as one of the principal, the abuse of words.—Geo. Horne.

Without knowing the force of words, it is impossible to know men. —Confucius.

Whatever weighs in the eternal scale of equity and mercy tips the beam on the side, where the immortal words and deeds of men alone can settle all questions amicably and satisfactorily.—Mary Baker Eddy.

Words, like flowers, have their colors too.—Ernest Rhys.

I love smooth words, like gold-enameled fish
Which circle slowly with a silken swish,
And tender ones, like downy-feathered birds!
Words shy and dappled, deep-eyed deer in herds. —Elinor Wylie.
